- 7.3. Exceeding the delivery period does not oblige NWO-I to pay compensation, nor does it give the Customer the right to terminate the agreement. However, the Customer does have the right, on expiry of a delivery period, to declare NWO-I to be in default in writing and in addition to set a reasonable period for performance, after expiry of which each Party may terminate the agreement in respect of the products and/or services not yet provided, without the Parties being liable for compensation in respect of this termination.

- 9.4. Payments made by the Customer shall first of all serve to settle any payable interest and costs and subsequently the longest outstanding payable invoices, even if the Customer should state that the payment is related to an invoice sent subsequently.
- 9.5. In the event of liquidation, insolvency, suspension of payments or (partial) attachment of the assets of the Customer, all obligations of the Customer will be immediately due and payable.
- 9.6. If the Customer is in default in respect of the fulfilment of one or more of its obligations, all extrajudicial and judicial costs will be for the account of the Customer.
- 9.7. Any complaints against the invoice shall be received in writing by NWO-I within 14 calendar days of the invoice date and do not suspend the Customer's payment obligation. Visible defects or otherwise reasonably recognizable defects shall be reported in writing by the Customer to NWO-I within 8 calendar days of delivery. Defects in respect of services provided by NWO-I shall be reported in writing by the Customer to NWO-I within 20 calendar days after NWO-I informed the Customer that the agreed services have been completed. - 11.1. NWO-I guarantees, with due observance of the other provisions of these General Terms and Conditions that the products it delivered are in accordance with their specifications and for a period of 6 months after delivery will function in accordance with their specifications.
- 11.2. A guarantee on materials and/or products purchased by NWO-I from third parties is given only if and insofar as the manufacturer/supplier in question gives a guarantee and only to the extent thereof. NWO-I is not liable towards the Customer for compliance with this manufacturer/supplier guarantee but NWO-I will assist the Customer in passing on guarantee claims.

- 11.3. If an item delivered does not comply with the agreement, the Customer is entitled to repair or replacement of the item delivered, such at the discretion of NWO-I. Replaced products will become the property of NWO-I.
- 11.4. The guarantee does not apply if the item delivered not being and/or not functioning in accordance with the specifications, in whole or in part, is the result of improper handling such as, for example, but not limited to negligence, misuse, incorrectly or not following the maintenance instructions. In addition, the guarantee does not apply if it concerns deviations that technically could not reasonable be avoided, imply a qualitative improvement or not significantly limit the item's functionality given the purpose for which the Customer uses the item in the Customer's normal business operations.
- 11.5. Products sent to NWO-I for guarantee evaluation shall always be sent carriage paid. Carriage forward shipments will be refused by NWO-I, even if it concerns products returned for repair outside the guarantee given.

- 12.4. NWO-I's liability for damage suffered by the Customer which is the result of an unlawful act committed by NWO-I in the context of the execution of the agreement is excluded, except insofar as the damage is the result of deliberate recklessness or deliberate intent of the directors or managing employees of NWO-I.
- 12.5. Any claim of the Customer against NWO-I pursuant to this article, will lapse if the Customer fails to bring legal proceedings against NWO-I within six months of completion of the assignment and/or termination of the agreement.
- 12.6. Further-reaching conditions limiting or excluding liability, which can be invoked against NWO-I by third parties (such as, but not limited to: suppliers), can also be invoked by NWO-I against the Customer.
- 12.7. The Customer indemnifies NWO-I against third-party claims for compensation of damage, for which NWO-I's liability in these General Terms and Conditions in the relationship with the Customer is excluded.

- 13.2. NWO-I also has the right to invoke force majeure if the circumstance impeding (further) compliance commences after NWO-I should have fulfilled its obligations under the agreement.
- 13.3. During force majeure, the obligations of NWO-I under the agreement are suspended. If the period, in which fulfilment of NWO-I's obligations is no longer possible due to force majeure, lasts longer than 3 months, both Parties shall have the right to terminate the agreement without any obligation to pay compensation or to reverse.

14. Retention of Title

- 14.1. The products delivered by NWO-I remain the property of NWO-I until the Customer has fulfilled all the obligations towards NWO-I, both with regard to the delivery in question and to deliveries and services provided earlier or later.
- 14.2. Products delivered by NWO-I that pursuant to paragraph 14.1 are subject to retention of title, may only be resold in the course of the Customer's normal business activities. The Customer does not have the right to pledge the products or to create any other right to the products.
- 14.3. If the Customer fails to fulfil its obligations towards NWO-I or if there is a justified fear that it will fail to do so, NWO-I has the right to remove the delivered products to which the retention of title referred to in article 14.1 applies, or to have these removed from the premises of the Customer or third parties holding the products for the Customer, including any necessary dismantling. The Customer shall fully cooperate with the above, subject to a fine of 10% of the sales value (excluding VAT) of the products in question, per day or part of a day in which the Customer remains negligent in this respect, without prejudice to the right of NWO-I to full compensation.

15. Termination of the agreement

- 15.1. Notwithstanding NWO-I's statutory rights, NWO-I has the right to suspend further execution of the agreement, or to terminate the agreement, all without prejudice to NWO-I's right to claim damages, in the event of:

problematic and/or disproportionately expensive to such an extent that execution of the agreement may not reasonably be demanded.

- 15.3. If NWO-I already in part fulfilled its obligations when the situation referred to in article 15.2 occurred or is only able to fulfil its obligations in part, NWO-I will have the right to separately invoice the part already delivered and/or the part than can be delivered and the Customer will be held to pay the relevant invoice as if it were a separate agreement. However, this does not apply if the part already delivered and/or the part than can be delivered has no independent value.

16. Taking over personnel

- 16.1. The Customer does not have the right without written permission from NWO-I, during the execution of the agreement and within one year of termination thereof, to employ personnel with an appointment for an indefinite period of NWO-I who in any manner are involved in the execution of the agreement or to negotiate with the personnel on employment.

17. Intellectual property

- 17.1. Any intellectual property rights, including the right to make an application for registration of such rights, that are or will be created in connection with or arising from the products or services provided by NWO-I to the Customer, remain with NWO-I or its licensors.

- 17.4. By way of derogation from article 17.1, NWO-I and the Customer may agree in writing that the intellectual property rights as referred to in article 17.1 will accrue to the Customer. This will be on the condition that NWO-I obtains a non-transferable, non-exclusive licence to use these rights for research and teaching purposes.
- 17.5. Even though NWO-I will exercise the utmost care when providing products and services, NWO-I cannot guarantee that the products or results of the services do not contain errors or omissions and/or that these will not infringe the intellectual property rights of third parties. NWO-I is not liable for such errors or omissions. NWO-I will consequently only accept legal liability for compensation to the extent as ensuing from article 12.

18. Confidentiality and secrecy

- 18.1. The Parties undertake to maintain confidentiality regarding everything they have become aware of in the execution of the agreement of a confidential nature or of which the Parties should reasonably have recognized the confidential nature.

19. Miscellaneous provisions

- 19.1. If the Customer and/or its personnel are on the premises or in, on or near the buildings or installations of NWO-I, they shall comply with the instructions of NWO-I. The Customer shall require its personnel to comply with said instructions.
- 19.2. NWO-I is in no way liable for any injuries or damage incurred by the Customer, its personnel and/or to its goods, during the stay on the premises or in, on or near the buildings or installations of NWO-I, except where an insurance taken out by NWO-I pays out an amount in this case.
- 19.3. NWO-I may require from the Customer that in connection with the execution of the agreement, it appoints a contact person with whom NWO-I can maintain all contacts related to the agreement.
- 19.4. The rights and obligations of the Customer under an agreement with NWO-I are only transferable with prior written permission from NWO-I and NWO-I may attach conditions to this permission.

- 20.1. Dutch law applies to all offers from, and agreements with, NWO-I with exclusion of the Vienna Sales Convention.
- 20.2. The Midden-Nederland District Court, Utrecht location, shall have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any disputes between NWO-I and the Customer, on the understanding that NWO-I also has the right to summon the Customer to appear before the court competent according to the law.
